Coronavirus Statement

Dear Customer

GripplE would like to provide you with an update in response to the potential concerns of supply chain risks related to the Coronavirus outbreak.

GripplE will continue to follow the guidance provided by the World Health Organization (WHO) to ensure that we keep up to date as to where local authorities maybe restricting travel and transporting goods from what are deemed “affected Areas”

We have conducted an extensive review of our supply chain and thanks to a high level of vertical integration, with a high number of key components and subassemblies internally manufactured we are able to manage significant risk internally. For the small number of remaining products that we do source externally ,we will continue to work closely with those key suppliers and have taken steps to increase our stock holding. We have no current issues within our supply chain.

GripplE will continue to closely monitor the situation and we will do our best to ensure that your supply is not impacted. We will continue to have regular discussions with the suppliers to stay on top of any emerging supply chain impacts specific to the virus outbreak.

As always, thank you for your business
